April 2 2025

Very poor sleep last night. Getting to be much too common. I was getting ready to head to Kent when Carolyn saved me and said she would do it. I went back to bed and got another 90 min sleep. Sure felt better after that.

Carolyn got Jacob to his Psychiatrist meeting and then to his work shift. He wanted to be weaned off of Prozac, and that is what they are going to do. Goes back in 2 weeks. I am a bit worried. Not going to be an easy transition.

Eye is still puffy but mostly better. We headed to the Hope Mission meeting. They had Refuse of Hope present. Wow do they do great work. They have 66 beds, provide lunch 4 days and dinner all week, have a walk in clinic, free clothes and spiritual counseling.

We hurried out of that to our doctors appointments. Those went well. We are mostly healthy.

Saw Laura's obit and wrote a note in the guest book. Calling hrs are April 13 with a funeral on the 14th.

April 1 2025

I was planning the HOA meeting and was informed neighbor Laura was already gone. Not surprised. The family likely compassionately pulled the plug. RIP Laura.

Eye is still puffy but slightly better. Stayed home and vegged. Did not to scare those at the Y.

Need to get to Kent early tomorrow to take Jacob to his Pshyc appointment and then get him to his work shift at the Bell Tower Brewery.

March 31 2025

Finally this miserable month is over. I did finally get a good night sleep by heading to bed at 9pm exhausted. Unfortunately all that sleep on one side of my face blocked some drainage and I had a very puffy right eye. I quickly got an eye dr appt later in the day and he suggested warm cloths 2x a day. He said to apply heat and massage the cheek. That is where the drainage channels reside.

Got the final bad news for the month and it was bad. News came that neighbor Laura wasn't coming home. She is now heavily sedated and incubated in the ICU with advanced lung cancer. All I can picture is seeing Mary's brother Jim in a similar situation the day before the plug was pulled on the respirator. I still can't talk about it without breaking up even though it was a few years ago. Worst thing I had ever seen.

Jacob is doing OK. Carolyn thinks he might have just taken some Xanax and needed to sleep it off. He has work shifts Wednesday thru Sunday totaling 22.5 hrs so he won't be totally broke anymore. That was really weighing on him.

March 30 2025

Another tough sleep night, 3 in a row now. We had breakfast and went to church. Stopped at Acme to get some frosting for the cake we made for Kalix yesterday. Picked up some other stuff too. No news on a party day or time.

Rain most of the day kept us in.

Jacob was txtng me last night about possible moves ahead. Told him to get his degree, a job, and the insurance that goes with a good job. He will be off dad's in a year and will need is own. He kind of went silent today so not sure what he is up to. The added stress is not good.

March 29 2025

Tough sleep night but by 845am, I had my 7 hrs in. We had breakfast and went to HD to pick up mulch. Poor kid there was loading cars and trucks by himself. He will sleep good tonight. We made 2 trips for our 32 cu ft. We stacked them in the garage for whenever the mulch party is.

Saw Vicky walking. She stopped for a bit and we made plans for next Friday fish fry. We did head out on our own walk just to enjoy the warm weather.

Glad we saved the pirogi from last night. It went good with our left over tacos for dinner.

Jacob worked his second day shift at the Bell Tower Brewing Company. Sounds like he likes it there. It's in an old church in Kent.

March 28 2025

We got the Easter decorations out and cleaned the guest room up. Got the baskets out and decorated.

Went to St Joe's for fish dinner. They give you a ton of food but I have had better fried fish. The church was closed, so we did not get to see it.

Jacob has more scooter problems. Sounds like the battery.

March 27 2025

Decided to skip the Y one more time and let the body heal a bit more. Checked with Jacob and he was free, so we went up and dropped off the scooter I had replaced the tire on and took his to replace the worn tire on that. So he has the first unit purchased and I now have the refurbished unit purchased directly from Segway as a backup.

We went for Taco's and they were good. Steve missed out again; he claimed not enough notice.

The dog walker was over at Laura's. We went over and asked how she was doing. She didn't know other than Laura had a collapsed lung and they had 13 people waiting on a hospital room.

March 26 2025

Weird day. Yesterday I txt neighbor and board member Laura and she said her sister in law arrived and took her to the ER because of her breathing problems. This morning she said she was waiting for a bed in the hospital while in the ER. They want to look at her lungs so that isn't a good omen.

Then an ambulance came and stopped 3 driveways away and they put someone in a stretcher and hauled them out of here. Later on we helped with a funeral lunch.

Carolyn stopped over for Survivor. She was late because she had a brush fire in her yard and the fire department was out to put it out. Neighbor is gonna be in trouble since there is a no fire ban in effect.

March 25 2025

Had some real pain inside thigh to knee from my groin pain. Worse than usual. Been bugging me for 2 weeks now. Decided to skip Y, rest, and take ibuprophen. Good move. Felt better as the day went on. Hopeful for tomorrow.

We went to Walmart for food and some items for the Hope Mission next month. We are donating to Refuge of Hope. Found 2 pair of shorts for $30 and some clearance shirts for St Patricks day. Got back and rested and felt improved all day.

Got a call for a funeral tomorrow. We will do that at 11:30.

Jacob got a job offer today! Great news.

March 24 2025

Forgot to post yesterday. Yesterday we went to see Jacob. I took the Ford to Wes so he could drop it off and get the brakes done. Wes went up to Kent with us. We saw the apartment, did the laundry, and had the Chinese buffet. Looked at the scooter. I will have to exchange scooters and replace the tire on his. It is worn bare. 60 Minutes was late due to the basketball and before we know it, it was past bedtime.

Today we did the Y. My sciatica is still an issue but I struggled through it. Vegged the rest of the day watching the stock market have an up day for a change. We did work on the puzzle as well. We are getting close on that.

Carolyn called about changing insurance. It was a no brained saving $600.

March 22 2025

I got 9 hrs and 45 min of sleep last night. I was exhausted after 2 nights hounded with sciatica. Was in bed for 12 hrs though. It was great!

We got ready and went to a funeral for Mike Sullivan, an old neighbor who lived close by in Uniontown. It was held at Holy Spirit where Lockheed golf buddy Chuck Ivan is a Deacon. I made sure to go up for a blessing from him; told him I couldn't pass that up.

Talked to 2 of the kids. one was in Carolyn's classes. Brenda and Pat from the hood also went. Brenda drove.

I got to calling my sciatica pain - the trump pain. It mostly occurs in the right side of my ass, so it is a pain in my ass just like Trump. I told Brenda that and she went on and on for 10 minutes ranting about him. She said if we had had a neighbor like him, we would have run him out of town. Like me, she also believes he is indeed the devil himself.

March 21 2025

Another Zombie day with only 5 hrs sleep. Sciatica kept me up again. To add to that, the furnace wasn't working properly. It was on but the blower wasn't pushing the air thru the house. Eventually, I had the thought that the filter might be the problem. I pulled it out and things went back to normal.

We went out to pick up some stuff for Jacob, get a new furnace filter, and find something for Kalix birthday. We got a merv 8 filter for large particles only. The merv 12 for large medium and small particles was holding the air back (my thought). It worked great.

We went to Troy's Toy store. Wow. Never seen so many lego items. We ended up getting a gift certificate cause it was just too much to pick from. I pity the fool that takes her there to look around. May take hours.

Got myself some salon patches. Seemed to work for a couple of hours so I hope I can sleep tonight.

Checked with neighbor Laura who has been having trouble with O2 with a virus. They did a CT scan and now want to look into her lungs and do a brain PET scan. None of that sounds good.

March 20 2025

Finally caught on that my blog dates were off, so I renumbered back to Sunday. Not sure why I did not post last Saturday?

Zombie day with only 5 hrs sleep. Sciatica kept me up. Finally had to take 2 Aleve at 2 in the morning. We were fasting and headed to the doctors for a blood draw at 10am. Picked up a donut for breakfast.

At 1pm I went over and the dentist scanned my mouth with a wand to get a computer model of my teeth. No more goopy impressions. Pretty cool software needed for the free hand scanning of the mouth. Has to match up each movement with something already recorded and append to that. I should have the final implant in 2 weeks.

I tried napping but had no luck. Tonight I will start with the Aleve.

March 19 2025

We did the Y class today. My sciatica wasn't too bad but it was noticeable. Mary stayed for the yoga class and went to Swensons with Brenda. When Mary got home, we went to pick up prescriptions and buy some coffee and a few other items.

I researched the rodent deterrent and sent it to the HOA manager. They sell metal strips you put under the bottom of your siding to keep them from getting in under the siding. About $400 for 160 linear ft. Installation labor would be at least $1000 I would guess. I had proposed this for one unit owner that is having issues.

Checked with Jacob today. He is still spending too much and running up his credit card balance. Unsustainable. I was giving him a talking to, being careful not to depress him about his situation. Sounded like his team was doing great in his Business Consulting class. His team of 8 is trying to bring a family restaurant into this Century and improve their business.

March 18 2025

I was off to play Sable Creek this morning while Mary held down the fort and did some laundry.

It was only 40 degrees at the start and everyone struggled the first few holes. I came alive and finished the front 6 over after being 5 over after 3. Two birdies and a par helped. On the back I had 4 pars but a 6 on a par 3 kept me at 43 on the back for an 85 total. Denny was at 94 Bill 100 and Dick at 101. We did play quickly. I remembered my iron swing and to follow thru with my putting stroke rather than slapping at it. That got me on track. Still struggling with the hybrids though.

Wes said his guy could do my front brakes and rotors for $300. Sweet. Jacob had his interview yesterday and a doctor appt today. Finally got to see a Psychiatrist.

Had the HOA meeting today. It went pretty smooth. Laura finally made the meeting via a phone call. She has some virus so I did not want her here. She couldn't get Teams working so she just called via phone and was just on the audio.

March 17 2025

We wore our green to the Y. I had to go easy today. Groin and hip pain, so I skipped a couple of the exercises. Afterwards we went to Acme for a couple of items.

Around 1pm I went to Mr Tire to get an estimate on brakes. The Ford has had a little front end shake when the brakes are applied, but it seems worse lately, especially at high speeds. I think the rotors may be warped. The guy there said yeah, it would be more noticeable at higher speeds.

Their quote was crazy. $1100 for front and back including rotors and drums. Their part prices were almost double what I saw at Autozone. The good news is he said my front end was solid. They had all the parts and tires in the green too. $1100 is nuts if everything is in the green? Wes said his guy can do the front for $300. Sweet.

Got back and I put out the new solar path lights. They look good.

Jacob had an interview at Steak-eeze in Kent. Didn't seem too enthused. He has another on Thursday.

March 16 2025

Storms all day long. We were up and moving early. Picked up Jacob at 930am and we went to the Great Lakes Science Center. I thought it was an OK place. Jacob enjoyed it. There was a lot there for kids and a lot for adults. The adult stuff was pretty complicated stuff though. Lots of hands on stuff but they didn't really have much explanation for what you were seeing.

We stayed about 3 hrs then found an Olive Garden for dinner on the way home. We got back around 430pm.

Jacob has a couple of job interviews this week. Hope they work out.

March 14 2025

Another beautiful day! Played an ugly round at Sable Creek. Front nine was worse 48 with 2 water balls. Remembered all my bad habits. On the back nine, I steadied but poor putting kept me at 45. Putting sadly cost me 6 on the back. Kept blowing it by the hole too far. Will try again Tuesday.

We went to Lobys for fish. Pretty busy there today as people are coming out of their hibernation. After a short rest we got out and walked.

March 13 2025

Another beautiful day! We went to the Y for the Tabata class. It was rough because I still had sore muscles from earlier this week. Got home and did a lot of groaning every time I got up.

After a short rest we went to Ollies to buy some good stuff cheap. Got lots of Easter candy and stuff. Also a nice suitcase for $50 to replace the one that broke on our Savannah trip.

Going to go on a road trip Sunday. Great Lakes Science Center with Jacob.

Worked on a couple HOA things this afternoon. Another HOA Board meeting next Tuesday.

March 12 2025

Another beautiful day! We went to the Y. Mary stayed and Brenda brought her home after Yoga.

Around 2pm I went to the implant guy and they uncovered the implant screw so the regular guy can make me a tooth for the implant. Why the regular guy could not do that is beyond me.

We finished up some left overs for dinner. Wes sent some pics from Dayton where Z was doing the robotic competition. He said Z's team did not do well. Nothing new other than that.

March 11 2025

Another beautiful day! Played Fox Den with the boys. Had a smooth swing, stayed over the ball, made a good turn and hit it well. Even made a couple of putts! 41-43= 84 the first time out was very encouraging. Hope to keep on doing what I did today.

Mary was busy with the wash. I usually walk with her but today my heels are sore from being on my feet all day.

Picked up a Subway for dinner. The Subway place was hopping. I believe it is back in favor because of very reasonable prices.

Jacob got to the gym in his complex today. No luck in job hunting, but he did get an appointment in the Falls for a psychiatrist in 2 weeks.

"St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan Trump, and all his evil cronies, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen"

March 10 2025

Beautiful day! We went to the Y. Mary stayed for the yoga class with Brenda and then Brenda and her went to the Red Hat meeting at Rockne's. That's always good.

Jacob was up when I got back. Got his clothes out of the dryer and later took a walk in the balmy temps. I think it was in the low 60s.

Carolyn picked him up after work and taking Don home from the car repair shop. His truck sounded like it was toast. Not sure if he will repair or just scrap it. Jacob is back in Kent tonight.

He is having a hard time getting an appointment at a Psychiatrist. Always has to leave messages. He needs his meds adjusted and they are the best ones to do it.

March 9 2025

The snow melted and it turned out to be a nice day. We did church, and settled in to watch the last 2 episodes of Zero Day on Netflix. We watched the first 4 last night. Excellent!

Vicky stopped over for almost an hour so we had to watch the last 40 min after she left. After the show we did our walk.

Surprise surprise, Carolyn stopped in and dropped off Jacob for the night. He was supposed to stay at Don's tonight but apparently had forgotten and was in no shape to host a guest; having consumed too much alcohol. I don't know what else can say other than wow.

Took another look at Jacob's finances and pointed out some mistakes he made this week. I am going to stay on top of this every week till he gets the hang of it and stops screwing up. Reminded him he needs to freeze his credit and cancel one account. He continued his online job hunting. Needs one very soon.

Tomorrow is yet another day.

March 8 2025

Oh my, we got 4-5 inches of wet snow last night. It didn't stick on the roads though. We had nothing on the agenda so we went with some cleaning. I scrubbed out the tub which did not get much attention with our colds and Mary's foot issues lately. BTW, her foot is good as new, but we check it every couple of days.

Mary got some wash done and we will cook spaghetti later tonight.

I did not sleep very well and was up early sending Jacob some pointers on his financial duties. He is still learning about the dangers of credit cards and how to handle them. Need a job very soon and he is looking.

He found a missed reminder to complete his FASFA for next semester and schedule classes. He did get the FASFA in. Better late than never. Hopefully he will be able to schedule the fall classes he needs to graduate in December. Might be difficult as it is spring break next week. Not sure if he will spend the next few days here as of yet.

Was thinking last night about the fact that no one asks for our help anymore. Guess it's because we are getting old and feeble. I can see why a lot of old people volunteer often. Still want to do some worthwhile things. Not wanting to just sit in a chair all day and waste away.

Got to spring the clocks ahead tonight.

March 7 2025

We took our recycle stuff in, picked up my prescription, and spent a ton At BJ's. Got gas for 2.08 since I spent 125+ last week on the new rug and other stuff.

Today we picked up a few items for Jacob. Adding some stuff for the Veteran collection and the Church food bank, we went over that this week.

After resting, we went to Lobys for the fish and it was good as usual. Maybe a tad overcooked this week.

Denny got us a tee time for Tuesday as we will hit a warm spell next week. He said he hit a large bucket the other day and was totally whipped. What was he thinking?

Jacob said he went on a scooter ride with Carlos. We hope he is going to be a good influence on him.

March 6 2025

Not much going today. Jacob did some school work, looked for jobs, and hung out till Carolyn got off work, then headed back to Kent for a few days. I expect he will be back soon, as it's spring break next week.

I worked on a few items for the HOA. Working on a letter encouraging people to sign up for the board. Board members are elected in June but we need to work on people ahead of that.

March 5 2025

We got going on the cheesy potato at 930 and they were done early. Jacob went to the rec center for an hour.

At noon we went to church for ashes and then to the Hope Mission meeting at 1pm. Many came over with questions about if the potato was frozen and we sent the recipe to one person who asked. Everyone brought their favorite prayer and there were discussion groups of 5. Believe it or not, I volunteered to lead one group.

We got home and cooked up chicken with the broccoli inside. Jacob wanted 2 and I didn't think he could eat both but he did and then some.

Carolyn came over to watch Survivor.

March 4 2025

We got to the Y for the 930 tabata class. I was whipped at 30 min since we have not done this for at least 2 weeks. Struggled for the last 15 min.

Took Jacob to the Stark campus rec center. He always liked their facility. There usually is no one there so the machines are mostly open. He was able to get his Huntington account closed. Tried to get a dentist appt at a place where he already missed the first one. They said no can do. Find someone else. No surprise there.

Carolyn stopped over on her way to an errand. They might do a short hike since it's really nice out.

March 3 2025

Not such a good sleep last night. Headed to the Y for the first time in 2 weeks. It was a good workout. Several said they missed us. Mary stayed for the yoga class with Brenda. She was bumming around with her till 4pm. Finally got Brenda her xmas gifts. The mechanical hound dog scared the crap out of her.

Both tax returns were accepted. So after I picked up some stamps I sent in their blood money. Will have to remember to have them hold more next IRA withdrawal.

Carolyn picked up Jacob and is bringing him here for 2 weeks. His class for Tuesday and Wednesday were canceled so he has nothing to do for 2 weeks. Maybe he can find some part time work to keep him busy.

March 2 2025

We both got a good 8 hr sleep last night. Headed to church and lit 2 candles. One for Bailey. Did some wash when we got home and put away some of the travel items that Carolyn had borrowed.

Finally finished my taxes and owe $3100. Federal was accepted. Ohio should follow soon.

At least Europe is standing behind Ukraine; unlike the devil himself, baby trump. I am disgusted with all Republicans or anyone else that stands behind this jackass.

Looks like I will need to keep the TV off all day Wednesday. I would be in grave danger of bursting a blood vessel listening to his BS. He will likely set a new record for lies to the American Congress in one single speech.

March 1 2025

Glad that this miserable February is done and gone. You have likely heard me say before that not a single good thing ever happens in February. This past one was no different.

Carolyn got back from Jamaica late last night and came to take Jacob to Kent tonight. She took him to Huntington to clear his bank balance and came back. We went over the financial game plan to straighten him out and reviewed what needed to be done in the short term to get him back on track.

He needs more grief counseling and a psychiatrist to adjust his meds. Have to decide how much time he spends in Kent and how much time he spends here for the near future.

We went to Walmart to pick up an HDD drive for computer backup. The flash drives take way too long. Got 2TB for $62. Walmart let me down today. I would have bet money they would have a simple sugar bowl. Nope. They has a butter dish and salt pepper shakers but no sugar bowl. Also picked up some stuff for cheesy potatoes for the Wednesday Hope Mission meeting.

February 28 2025

Jacob slept in till 1030. Got him up and cooked his pancake.

We almost forgot about Mary's hair appt. We remembered just in time and I hustled her over to the appt at 10:30. We picked her up just after 12pm and headed to BJs to pick out a new rug. We had Jacob take a look at the packaged food so we could bring him some next time or in the future.

We put down the new rug and, a little later, headed to Loby's for fish.

Carolyn will be traveling home today. She plans to pick Jacob up tomorrow and take him back to Kent.

February 27 2025

Jacob slept in till 11. Got him up and he took his laundry up. Then we started to replace the battery on his laptop.

Vicky called and asked us to watch Penny while she went to the stat care. She had a nasty bump or bite on her lower shin and wanted it to be looked at. Mary kept an eye on Penny.

We got stuck on the laptop because we did not have a screwdriver small enough to get a few screws out. Called the geek squad and got a 2pm appt to do it. The guy there was real nice. They couldn't promise to get it done in time but suggested we get a precision tool kit. That worked like a charm and we got it done. Charge was at 71% and the charger wouldn't charge it any higher. Fortunately the old charger I have seemed better and now he is good to go.

Vicky picked up her dog and we were off to Lobys for pizza. Today is now all over but the shouting.

February 26 2025

The HOA meeting went smooth last night and we headed to Kent to pick up Jacob after his class.

Today we worked on his banking issues and almost got it done. Some items to work on tomorrow but not many. Going to put the new battery into his laptop. Got to be careful with that.

We took him for his class tonight and had some Canes chicken while we waited. Did a little shopping in Dollar General and then picked him up. Another long day.

February 25 2025

Not a much of a happy birthday for Jacob. We did have cake and ice cream after dinner though. Beth took him to class at 4pm.

He is feeling poorly today. I helped him straighten out his finances this afternoon. We are almost done but there is more to do tomorrow. Always wondered how people get out of high school having no financial common sense. It's a travesty.

HOA Meeting starts in 15 min. Once that is over we can drive to Kent to pick him up after class. Long day.

February 24 2025

Got Jacob to class at 11am. Beth returned him here after his last class finished early. No worse for the wear.

We picked up a bunch of stuff at BJs and GE. First real grocery run since we got back. Then we whipped up some meatloaf and ate around 4pm. It was good.

Beth will take Jacob to Kent around 4pm for his late class. I will need to pick him up at 815 after the February HOA meeting.

February 23 2025

We did church online today. Jacob wasn't up to it so we stayed to keep an eye on him. He got a lot of hate mail blaming him for Bailey's OD. My take is the 5 stages of grief include anger and that is part of the process. Told him to block those people. Not going to go into any details in the blog. It's all very sad.

Carolyn's friend Beth went to Kent to give the family the car keys and brought back Jacob's cat. That should help. Also got him texting with a grief councilor which also helped.

I will take him up to Kent for class and Beth agreed to bring him back here after classes from 11 till 5 pm.

February 22 2025

Oh my. Carolyn was heading to Jamaica for the week early today, but called late last night asking if Jacob could stay here a few days. She said he was fine, but needed support. He got here sometime overnight and has not be up yet so we do not have any details as to what happened yesterday.

Carolyn called between flights and said his close friend Bailey OD and didn't make it. We will be helping guide him in dealing with his grief this week. Hope to get him back to Kent Monday thru Wednesday for classes and he can stay here the rest of the week. Perhaps get him signed up for grief counseling somewhere. That is my plan so far.

Got a good sleep and was up at 7am. Not much doing today. Mary got the rest of the wash done and I decided to go to go get a haircut from the local guy.

We went to Lobys and the fish was good. The lady we usually sit by put a new zipper in my Fort Niagara jacket. Wasn't perfect but it got the job done. Amazing how the old metal zippers are so superior to the plastic junk they use these days. Bought them a drink, so it cost me around $7 for the fix.

Mary started a squirrel puzzle. Wish it was in a cage though.

February 20 2025

Back home and very tired from not sleeping very good last night and getting up at 530 to catch the flight home. Flight was good and on time. Carolyn picked us up and went back to work.

After unpacking Mary has been busy with the laundry. I have been dozing off, reading the mail, etc, but am mostly zombie like all day.

Stock market wasn't kind today. I did pick up some more Hood while it was down. Likely pick up some Zoom tomorrow per the paid stock line I got on the cheap awhile back. Nothing planned for tomorrow except for fish at Lobys.

Glad to be home.

February 19 2025

Weather was spot on. Rained from 8am till 3pm. We started out at 930 to the Tanger Outlets. Started out with a Krispy Kreme donut and coffee with no rush to walk thru the drizzle.

Found the Sketcher store and got me some new shoes and Mary too. My regular shoes have no tread on them and were dangerous in the snow, so I needed something safer. Not sure I will have room for the old ones on the way back. We picked up a small tote to help with packing and Mary got a new Michael Kors purse. It's a little on the small side but should work most of the time.

Watched the market. My stocks were down today. Looking for a place to eat, I found a menu to Sweet Potato Kitchen. Looked diverse so we went there. Great choice! We had homemade pot roast and it sure was good.

In a half an hour or so, we will hit the hot tub one more time, then shower and pack up for a 6am departure for the airport. Nasty weather so there may be some long delays tomorrow. Hope not.

Was much nicer than projected. Got up to 60 and we just had light jackets on. Wasn't sure what to do today. After breakfast decided to go to Old Fort Jackson. First built under Jefferson to protect the coast, and updated for the war of 1812 then again for the civil war. A small outfit runs it with a skeleton crew. Not very impressive but it was interesting enough.

Next we went to town to see the city market shops. It was very nice. We did find cookies and fudge and had a large chicken salad for lunch. It was very good. Decided to skip the railroad museum as we were pretty tired by then. Every day we poop out earlier than the last day. Tomorrow may be a bust with rain. We shall see.

Not sure how we gonna eat all that fudge. I hope we find room for it to pack and take home.

My stocks were up again today. God provides for those in need. Makes me wonder what my need will be. Hope it is to help others.

February 17 2025

Cold snap pushed way south. Started off at 40 but did get to 55. Best to be in the sun today. We were going to Tybee Island today but glad I saw Fort Pulaski and put that into the gps. It's a National Park site and it was first class. From 10-11 we got a walk about tour that ended in the fort. Then a sit down tour about how they built the fort. What an amazing design! As an example, they pounded 1 ft pine trees straight into the ground too have a base strong enough to hold up the fort walls on this marshy island. I could tell the guide was an engineer before retiring. Thoroughly enjoyed it.

We then went over to Fort Screven and the lighthouse. To park, I had to download an Ap and use my credit card to pay $8 for 2 hrs. We walked to the lighthouse. I complained about the parking and the girl said their lot was free. That ticked me off and I decided to not pay to see the lighthouse closer. We walked to the beach and walked the beach for a mile.

We stopped at a small shack and I had shrimp and Mary had fish and chips. We went to a small shop area in the center of town. Walked the street but 2/3 the shops were closed. I forgot you had to pay and I saw the meter lady checking. Might have got by since I may have had some time left at the other site. Good luck collecting anything from me.

We were going to stop for ice cream on the way out of town but there was only paid parking. We left without any ice cream. A pox on that town. Most unfriendly tourist trap I have ever seen anywhere.

Unfortunately I watched the news at 6pm. In less than 30 days, Trump has pissed off every single one of our allies with the exception of Israel and Russia. Oops, Russia is the USA's enemy or was till Trump took office. This is the re-kindling of the Trump-Putin love fest. God help us.

February 16 2025

Holy Crap! We headed off to Amelia Island this morning, 2 hrs south to see Carolyn's BFF Jenny. Drove through a monsoon. The thing was blowing the car around and at times I could hardly see. Pretty scary stuff. I did stop once for 10 minutes.

It was great to see Jenny. She has a nice place. We went over to the island and drove through the downtown but we never got a chance to walk thru it because of the continuous rain. We ended up going to a restaurant closest to where we could find a parking spot so we wouldn't get too wet.

We had a great lunch and caught up. Went to the beach and the rain held off long enough for us to pick up 3 shells, then the rain started and semi soaked us. Dropped Jenny off and headed back and of course the sun started coming out. Back at 430, so we headed down to the pool and relaxed there and spent 25 min in the hot tub. So nice!

Showered and watched 60 minutes. OMG, I got sick to my stomach watching them call out what Trump was doing. It's all very depressing.

February 15 2025

Crapy day with drizzle and temps in the 60s. The trolly tour was nice and so was the river cruise but with the rain you could not go outside for long. Started at 11 am and we were done at 3pm.

After we got back we did a short tour of the Savannah History Museum. That was a bit small but we were there so we went thru it.

Hustled back and went to 5pm Mass at a small Catholic Church nearby and then had some good BBQ for dinner.

Heading down to Amelia Island tomorrow to see Jenny.

February 14 2025

Lots of delays Thursday for our flight. We didn't get unpacked till 11 and to bed at midnight. Long long day yesterday.

Last night I set up a walking tour for today and a trolly/river cruise for Saturday. We went to a ship museum at 1030 in Savannah but had to hurry back to the hotel to charge my phone. All the tickets were on it and I needed a charge. Back at the hotel I looked up where they hid the usb port and brought a cable so I could charge in the car.

The walking tour was OK. Half of it was interesting and the other half was a bunch of filler. The St John the Baptist church at the end was a wow. We went in and lit candles for my mom, Brother Jim Maloney, and niece Bonnie.

Stopped for pizza downtown before heading back. The pool was awesome body temperature and the hot tub divine later on.

February 12 2025

No posts last night. Headed to bed after Oak Island and just plain forgot. Yesterday we went to the Y class. Had thought about going to Kent but Jacob was under the weather.

Today we started getting ready for our trip and did some packing, but we don't leave till 3 for the airport tomorrow. Might do some more packing after this early post.

We did go to Kent today. Dropped off a few items, Jacob got laundry done, and we ate chicken at Canes. We looked for a couch at the Restore but not much there. Got home ahead of the bad weather.

Had to switch the garage opener to the new WiFi and the Nest Home as well. Still need to switch the printer over when I can get to it.

I called Spectrum to cancel and it only took 10 minutes. I was amazed. Of course they told me they could beat the T-Mobile price of $65. That's typical for many companies. They jack the price up, rip you off, and then are sorry when you leave and said they could have dropped your price below what ever you tell them.

Doubt if I will post tomorrow with the afternoon flight to Savannah.

February 10 2025

No posts last night due to the late Superbowl. Finally got to bed at midnight. Hot damn! The team I was rooting for won. I wanted the Eagles to just crush KC and they sure did. KC was helpless. The only showed Taylor swift once and the devil himself once. Kathy Gagola painted her nails green and that helped too. KC was stomped, tromped, and totally beaten. KC was pathetic.

The Eagles should thank the fans all over the country for complaining about all the breaks the refs have given KC all year and throughout the playoffs. They didn't get those this time.

Had hoped Jacob and Wes/family would come. Jacob thought he was catching something and Zander was sick. Neither came. Ed's cheesy potatoes were a big hit. We had food for 12 or more but the 4 of us could not eat it all. Sent Steve and Kathy home with a couple meals each , froze some for Jacob and kept 2 for ourselves.

We got a Y class in this morning. Mary stayed for chair yoga and Brenda brought her home. Mostly watched the market the rest of the day. Some of the clean up for last night was left so we got that done.

February 8 2025

We got the pills filled for the week and then made the cheesy potatoes from Ed's recipe. They turned out great and it was very simple to make.

We straightened up for tomorrow and then watched as the rain came in and froze on the trees cars grass and bushes. Very nasty.

At 530 we headed over to Mel's to meet up and travel to the Anglemans reverse raffle. Everything was iced except the roads. Everyone knew this was coming so they had the salt trucks out.

Was great to see JohnT, Mel, Joann, and the Webbers. We were all in close to the end. The last 30 numbers. With the sideboard numbers I had 5 chances out of 30 to win something. Our name went out at #25 and my other numbers went out quickly. Just my luck. Mary did win a loaf of bread wen they called her birthday.

We made it home OK but not until 11pm. Long day with no luck.

February 7 2025

We got started on cooking for the SB party since we would be busy tomorrow. Today we made the sloppy joes and the rutabaga. Thought we had tomatoes but no. Another store trip this morning. We were done by noon.

Vegged awhile then to Lobys for fish at 2pm. Got a call for prescription pickup. Foot Dr prescribed a different gel for her. Since we were out and I had $5 off ice cream we stopped at Brewsters. I got me a cone and Mary had the hot fudge.

Helped Jacob edit one of his written assignments over the phone around 7pm. It was due at midnight. Asked Wes what time the kids were coming tomorrow. Z was sick so everything is off for tomorrow except Angelman's reverse raffle tomorrow evening.

February 6 2025

We went over to Vickys and I got the pilot light on her hot water tank going. Somehow it went out while she was visiting her daughter in Florida for a week. Then it was off to the Y.

Once back, I finished setting up the T-Mobile internet. Had to call again to get HULU home reset to the proper place. Everything is up and running. Will be saving $636 a year but will lose the phone.

Jenna came over to do her taxes. We did the Green one but setting up the IRS account, she was missing her license. We will have to do that at a later time.

TTW has some daily ridiculous new idea every single day. Makes me wonder if each day is a diversion to hide some other activity they want to downplay. I think that would be Musk dismantling some government agency.

February 5 2025

Still having trouble getting to sleep but I got 7 hrs in by 830. We got ready for the retiree lunch and got there before 1030. Mary and I split an order of beef stew and it was very good as usual.

Hogan, Feldman, Messner, John R, and Dick were there. John R lost his house in a house fire and will rebuild. Pretty much all these old geezers with the exception of Dick and I still live in a big house.

We got home and worked on puzzle and laundry and staying warm.

The TTW is proposing we take over the Gaza Strip. OMG, what is the lunatic thinking now?

February 4 2025

Hard to sleep last night so I rolled over at 7am and slept till 930. Too late for the Y class. So we got up and I got ready for the dentist at 1130.

Dentist worked longer than expected on getting my partial right. Maybe 45 min. Finally walked out with my 2 front teeth I was wishing for at Christmas time.

Met rudy and Jane for dinner. Dinner was real good once again. Palumbo's has good food. Got to try out my new teeth. Pretty weird chewing with them on. Hopefully I will get used to it. Will see how much it helps but at least I don't look like a hillbilly anymore.

Jackass TTW gave Elon Musk access to the US Treasury date. Holy crap. Only a lunatic would do that. And only a small subset of lunatics would do that. God help us.

February 3 2025

We went to the Y today. Good workout and a big crowd. Was over 50 today so we walked later on. Lots of plow damage. I stopped and put something like 12 plow sticks back in the ground. Sent the photos to Sam for reference.

We started another puzzle of 300pc; should go quick.

Dufus TTW put on tariffs then delayed them. No telling what he gonna do next. Stock guy was saying how is a company going to do any planning when he changes his mind on a daily basis. Oh, we better build a plant in the US; wait now we don't; oops we better; oops who knows.

February 2 2025

We went to church. Father Benson is back from Nigeria. He lost a tooth so will be at my dentist tomorrow. I saw the dentist in the back of the church today. He did recognize me and I met his family. That was very nice I think. Either that or he is planning his next vacation on me.

Mary's foot is looking great good. Will be checking twice a day to make sure. She uses a hospital quality wash and using erythromycin when we look at it.

We went to Kent today. Dropped off some items and got him a gas card so him and his friend can look for jobs. They are both out of jobs and broke so I helped out. Hope he finds a job soon. Both for money and to keep him busy and out of trouble.

Didn't watch any news today so no telling what the Train Wreck is up to. I am sure he is spouting off with untruths of some kind.

February 1 2025

Looks like February sucks too. Cooled down but warmer tomorrow. Jacob had a rough night at work. He is gonna need a new job. Young boss isn't paying attention to the proper health grill cleaning and sanitation and yelling at him for doing so on his own. Kept him and I from proper sleep last night. Tried to catch up during the day but no luck. Based on what he said, I certainly won't be eating at that Chipotle again.

Mary's foot is looking great lately. Will be checking twice a day to make sure. She uses a hospital quality wash and using erythromycin when we look at it.

We were supposed to go to Kent today but pushed it back a day based on his request. Mid afternoon, we went to Acme to pick up stuff for Super Bowl party Sunday and something to eat for today.

On the TTW front, my old grade school buddy Greg says he is doing the head in the sand thing like me to avoid Trump idiotic news. Old neighbor Brenda just wants to slap him every time she sees him on TV. Come to think of it, I hardly know anyone who has any use for this disgusting human other than my duped sister. Not one of the nine guys I golf with, not any of my kids, not any of one of my old work buddies, and not even one of my sister's own kids for that matter.

January 31 2025

The month is now over. It pretty much sucked as we were mostly shut in by the cold and crappy weather. Mary's foot looks good. I think we are over the hump.

We went to BJs in the morning to get stuff for Jacob to take up tomorrow. Cat food, goodies, and toilet cleaner. Quite a mix.

Mary did some wash. Lobys for fish at 215. It was good.

January 30 2025

We called Ruth last night. She gave us good news that there was no cancer seen after her chemo. She has to do some kind of maintenance IV every 3 weeks for 3 more times. I told her I was tired of muting Trump on the news casts. She says Dennis yells loudly at the TV when they report his crap. She just wants to slap the smug look off his face. We have plenty of hater company.

Mary's foot is looking better and better. So we did the tough Y class today. Feeling it this afternoon. We got home 11:30 ish and rested a bit. Then we went for free Thursdays at the Canton Art Museum. Took some interesting pictures, but nothing spectacular caught my eye.

Ginny and John plan to go to Buffalo before Easter and then drive here and stay till Monday. Will be good to see them. We need to get together as often as we can. We ain't getting any younger.

January 29 2025

Last night at bedtime I saw a small area by the bedroom back wall on the ceiling that looked wet. Went and got a chair and verified it was damp. Decided I better investigate in the morning.

Got outside after breakfast and looked for an ice dam near that back wall. It was just melting snow but there could have been one there last night. Will have to have that area inspected in the spring.

Took a walk around the lower circle and saw lots of ice dams. Took some pics and sent out an email to the board. Keith said he knows of 2 people that fell on the area the ice dams melted onto. People need to be aware and salt their own drives!

Mary's foot looked good this morning. Last night I switched back to the erythromycin and maybe it is a better choice. As it was looking good and the air was warmer, we did the walk to the upper circle and back. Then we finished the puzzle and had dinner.

Keith said Beverly 4687 stopped by and complained about Sam doing nothing about her possible animal intrusion. Asked Sam about it and he said she hasn't been nice, but it is her problem. He did write a work order to have it checked. I did some research and asked him to check with a home inspector with a drone license to see what that cost might be.

Earned my HOA pay today. Let's see what tomorrow brings. BTW, Ginny and John are going to see Ruth just before Easter and will drive here for Easter. Will be good to see them.

January 28 2025

We decided to try the Y once again. It went well. No foot damage. I went up front for one session and got an ovation.

Back home, I finished taxes but could not send them. The printout said the form wasn't final yet. Owe 4400 this year due to the IRA withdrawals. Mary's bras arrived today. One was too big so we packaged it for return.

Almost was late to the foot doctor. Thought of it just in time. We got our toes clipped and they took another scraping for analysis of Mary's issues. Apparently her biopsy has been lost and can not be found.

Our main jackass issued an executive order recently to stop all DEI programs in the Federal government. He doesn't believe in Diversity Equity and Inclusion. OMG that goes against everything he believes in. Such a horrible thing diversity is. That was bad enough, but his minions in state governments are harassing corporations to drop their programs. Many have but Costco is a holdout. Just what the hell does the President think he can jam down corporate throats just because he doesn't like it. He and his maggots make me sick.

Every day I seem to catch another disgusting Trump development. His crap led me to get only 5 hrs sleep last night. I am really wondering if I am going to make it through his term. I am not optimistic.

January 27 2025

We decided to try the Y today. First time in 30 days we were to class. Said hi to several that missed us. Wanted to see how Mary's foot did. I looked when we got back and it looked no worse for wear. It's still hasn't totally healed so it was a gamble. I will check again tonight to be sure. If it's ok we plan to try again tomorrow.

Foot doctor's nurse called with no news other than they will try to see why they don't have new info yet. I had called and asked why last Friday. We may have to change doctors if this one continues to be non helpful. Perhaps the skin doctor is a better choice for this.

Got the car washed. It really needed it. $22 seems high for a quality wash. Did some of the puzzle.

Had to work a couple of hours on the HOA stuff. The property manager had changed the fees I had calculated and distributed and the owners were rightly confused as to the differences. To clarify, he seemed to blame it on the board. I rechecked as to how they did it and they had some of the ownership percentages in their spreadsheet wrong. I told him to look into it and report back. I am very confident my numbers were correct. Likely an entry error when developing their spreadsheet. Either that, or I don't have the latest legal document.

Muting Trump news on the newscasts is costing me the first 8 minutes and is a real pain. I will be glad when his follies are superseded with other news.

Had a go around with one of my sisters about what the Bible says about immigrants and how wrong the mass deportation is in God's eyes. Pretty sad situation.

January 26 2025

Up early. We went to church, picked up a couple of prescriptions, and some stuff at Marcs. Won a $100 scratch off. That was good.

We watched the Eagles win, did some puzzles, and have started watching the Bills game. Josh Allen is off and that is a bad sign. They are down 4 at the half. Need to play better. Unfortunately the Bills cornerback is out and #5 is pathetic as a replacement.

January 25 2025

We slept in today. Not much going on. We watched some old Columbo's and Monk's.

Gathered all my tax stuff and did an online turbotax. Damn if the stupid W2G I got forced me to the next version at a cost of $79. So sad. Gonna have to pay taxes this year.

January 24 2025

Took Mary for her hair appt and went over to BJs to get some water for Jacob. Was going to get some vegetable oil but all they had were gallons. Picked up Mary and we headed to Kent to see Jacob and Steve.

Got the laundry done and had Japanese food in downtown Kent. Great place called Pacific something on Water and Main. This is week 2 of classes but some were cancelled and one is delayed till next week.

Holy crap. Seems like this week has been an entire month of the TTW. Getting sick of him just spouting any old crap he wants. Lets cancel this and cancel that and disband this and disband that and whatever he wants to pick on on that particular day. Most of the stuff he has no say in anyway. That jackass is just full of #&@. His gutless cronies just approved his yes man, a drunken pervert, as Secretary of Defense. Only two women senators with any sense voted against him. God help us.*

Not much happening today. Did a little wash and finished the latest puzzle.

Decided since time was running short I better make the trip reservations today. Got the Allegiant airline and car set up, then the hotel. Went to Choice hotels yesterday and found a Radisson with an indoor pool. Top of the line place but this will be our only winter week away. The airline surprised me a little. I got the extras for a bag and carry on and it was as much as the ticket. I could have done the tickets separate to take just 1 bag but opted to just move on. Ticket is still half the price of the major airlines.

So it's off to Savannah in 3 weeks. Looks like lots of things to do. The beach is 30min away but there is a fort to visit, tours to take and a museum or two. Then we have the pool and hot tub as well.

We went to Lobys for pizza. Mary had the pizza. I got the hot stuffed peppers. Yum.

My stocks keep going up. God must want them to go up which is scary. Maybe I am going to need more money for some reason? Maybe it's money I might need for my future Spit on Trumps grave tour business..

January 22 2025

We were up to get ready to take Vicky and Penny to the airport at 915am. Took awhile to get her into the car and then into the airport and up to the check in desk. She needs a cane to walk and she gets a wheelchair ride to the gate. Tough to carry a suitcase and a dog carrier in the shape she is in with bad legs.

Mary came with me and we stopped for breakfast at Samantha's on Portage. Got coffee early and often but the food was slow to come out. I wrote a note on the bill to those issues and noted the lighting chains needed cleaning. I am not a fan of having dust residing directly over the eating table.

We got home and started a new puzzle and did some wash. After dinner we made some brownies. They were slightly over baked though.

I spent a good part of the day trying to figure out a week in the south. The plan is to spend a week in Savannah. Only cheapo flight I could find for February was one from CAK to Savannah on Allegiant. Savannah looks to have places to visit and there is a beach 30 min away we can walk. Could have driven down to Jacksonville for a place on the beach, but doing Savannah saves a 2 and a half hour drive to Jacksonville and the same on the return trip. Maybe next year.

I see the TTW is rolling along. Pardoned the Poor Boy leader and 1500 others who now are going to buy some more #%@ guns he says. The Capital police weren't very happy, nor were the judges who heard the trials. But hey, ticking off a few judges vs praise by a whole army of maggats is no contest. I could rag on the other bazaar things he has already started but that would just upset me. One a day is enough. God help us.

January 21 2025

As far as yesterday, a day to mourn for our country and for ourselves, Mary's foot looked pretty good once again.

Also yesterday, we decided we would cook up some chili so we headed over to Acme for the stuff. Made 1.5 x so we could save some for Jacob. Added more sauce as the recipe always comes up short on liquid. Much better result. We figured we would add a green pepper next time to add some flavor.

Also on Sunday night, the Bills pulled off a miracle win over the Ravens. Mostly due to their miscues. We will take it and should be able to beat KC next week.

Yesterday, we kept the TV off and missed all the hoopla featuring the devil himself. I am sure he is spouting that this was the finest and most important inauguration ever held in this country, and no one has ever seen anything like it and bla bla bla.....bla bla bla.....what a dumb ass.

Today we slept in. Around noon, we went to Harbor Freight to get a space heater for Jacob. Lots of cold air gets in around his AC unit. Then we filled up at BJs. Next it was to Walmart to return a phone case I ordered that was the wrong size. Picked up a few items there too.

Headed to the foot doctor for a 240pm appt. She had not gotten the biopsy details yet. Basic results were last week but they a very detailed report within the week. We should expect a call in the next couple of days.

From there we headed up to Kent to drop off the space heater. On the way back I stopped at Sheetz for free tire air. Talked to buddy Steve on the way back. He asked if I saw the Coronation yesterday. Told him we knew better than to watch that circus. He told me it was bad. Really bad. He was sick to his stomach after listening to Trump's #%&. His first speech was bad but the next to his supporters was just horrible.

So, the TTW has officially begun. God help us all.

"St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan Trump, and all his evil cronies, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen"

January 20 2025

This day was declared this a day of National Mourning by yours truly. A very sad day, No TV was watched and no blog was blogged.

Only God can help us for the next 4 years. I have faithfully prayed this every Sunday in church without it being answered. Help me out here please. Please pray to St Michael.

"St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan Trump, and all his evil cronies, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen"

January 19 2025

Mary's foot looks pretty good since I have been using the cream I had for athletes foot. Doctor gonna not be happy but it's the weekend and I can't talk to her.

We cooked a big breakfast then went to church. Wasn't bad out; maybe 23 degrees. After church, we got a new puzzle out and we have it about 1/3 done.

Very entertaining Eagles game; looks like they may win. About 10 minutes left and the snow is pouring down. Been a great year for snow games. It is about 530 and the Bills play at 630. Will report on that Tuesday. Bills are the underdogs and rightly so. They had a hard time stopping Derick Henry and not sure they really can. The Bills Mafia might help.

Declaring tomorrow a day of mourning. There will be no blog. There will be no TV tomorrow as it will be full of #%& with the TTW (Trump Train Wreck) inauguration. I will turn the TV back on Tuesday morning but may have to mute it a lot if they repeat the #%& of the inauguration. I have been told the Buckeyes will play for the championship tomorrow too. I wouldn't be surprised if the Bills and the Buckeyes lose Monday in light of the TTW #*%&.

God help us survive the #*%& of next 4 years.

January 18 2025

I was looking at bad foot pictures last night and found one similar. They said it was just athletes foot. In the morning I tried some of that salve I had to see how that would go and left bandage off. Let's see how it does tomorrow morning.

In the morning I went thru my blog and documented all the blisters. Most of them took 10 days to be well enough for Y classes. This one is 18 days and going strong.

Carolyn called and wanted to go to Kent with us. She was worried about the roads but I knew they would be OK. We got the laundry done, ate at subway, checked out the vintage store and headed home. Her new junker ran pretty well.

We watched the KC game and had some soup and did some wash. Day is almost in the books.

January 17 2025

Mary's foot looked very good again this morning but doesn't seem to have improved much. We worked on bead jewelry today. Made a bracelet and some earrings. New ones to match one of her necklaces.

Eventually, 2pm rolled around and we went to Lobys. Mary wolfed down her chicken salad and I had the fish again. We had 30+ temps today. What a relief after days in the low 20s.

We will be heading to Kent tomorrow to see Jacob, get his laundry done, and buy him lunch.

BTW, I updated the what's in the bag page of the blog. Click on each thumb to see the pics.

January 16 2025

Mary's foot looked very good again this morning. Also, some of the earlier damaged areas looked so much better, Very encouraged, Another cold nasty day. Several inches of snow last night. The plows were out. Later saw they had pushed too much into the street sign and it had a new lean to it.

Since Mary's foot looked so good, we went to Acme to pick up a few food items. The price of eggs was up. One of the cashiers said not to worry. Once the Donald took over Monday he would solve ALL our problems. She was joking of course. I am declaring Monday as a day of mourning. There will be no blog this coming Monday and I will keep my TV off all day to avoid listening to any of the garbage that comes out of the devil himself's filthy lair of a mouth.

Our new rug came. It is very thin. We got it laid out and it looks nice. It's a little bigger than expected. Maybe I should measure next time.

Mary's foot looked very good this morning. Another cold nasty day. I had to get the trash bucket out early so I bundled up.

As a follow on to the HOA mtg last night, I worked on a list of gutter replacements for quoting this year. Ken had a list which I followed for the most part, but I wanted to complete several where only front or back of the building was previously done. Also worked on the minutes.

Saw that the barber was open so we went to Hartville. Dropped off stuff for Wes. Lincoln had a 102 temp so we didn't go in.

Walked into the barber and there was Larry Ross my old Cisco golf partner! What a hoot. Was great to see him. We got to talk for 15 minutes and I loved every minute of it. Same old Larry. We are the same age. He still has more hair, but I have more teeth left.

Oh yeah, I made a new email filter today. Any email with the word "Elon" in the subject line gets sent to the trash.

January 14 2025

Mary's foot looked good this morning. The HOA meeting was going to be here tonight because Laura was busy moving her dad from Aultman to Woodlawn today. We made room at the table and cleared away a lot of clutter. Put away the puzzle table and now we have to get it out again. Tried to reschedule to later in the week but that did not work.

We went out and took the recyclables to the church. Roads were nasty. Nasty and cold out there. Sick of it already.

We had dinner and the HOA meeting went well around 6pm. Was less than an hour. Sam had a couple of items to research.

January 13 2025

Mary's foot looked good this morning. We hung around and Mary went to Red Hat Lunch at Walthers in North Canton at 1pm. I drove her and picked her up. She had a good time.

Called the foot doctor and finally got a call back at 3pm. She prescribed an anti- bacterial pill. I was expecting penicillin or the like. Still waiting for it to be filled.

Did some prep work and gathered materials for the HOA Mtg tomorrow night.

Finally got around to cleaning my clubs. Took some pics and reworked the "Whats in the Bag” page. Put the clubs into my new bag. Speaking of the new bag, it has 15 spots for clubs and a spot for the putter? Are they trying to encourage everyone to use 16 clubs?

January 12 2025

I was up early, but Mary slept in. Mary’s foot looked good this morning. We went to church. Carolyn stopped over after church to show us her new junker, a 2007 rav 4 with 192000 miles.

Watched the Bills game. Denver was no match but they did play them tough for the first half. We had the Panera soup for our meal and it was very good. We finished the puzzle too.

Kaetchen sent the news that Z’s robotic team qualified for the state tournament. Wow! Jacob was chatty today. Lonely he said. Waiting for classes to start tomorrow.

Saw Mary’s biopsy report. She has a staff infection so I expect she will get another pill prescribed tomorrow. If the foot doctor doesn’t prescribe a new one I will call the PCP. She needs something more than doxycycline. So say eth Dr Bob.

January 11 2025

We slept in again. Mary’s foot looked good this morning. Did wash and some of the puzzle.

Went to BJs for gas, water, and a few other items. Headed to Kent at 215. Jacob got his laundry done and we ate at Canes. Stopped for hot fudge sundae on the way home.

Classes start Monday. Hope Jacob is OK. He was looking after a friend who sounded like they had the flu.

January 10 2025

Stock market tanked. Too many people got jobs last month. Very weird.

Pathetic day. We did puzzles and wash before going to Lobys for fish. Fish was good. We spent the time there talking with Pat Keane. Surprised he isn’t in Florida already. Said he was leaving after the storm settles down.

January 9 2025

Had to get moving early to get to Mary’s foot dr appt. We discussed the spreading of the blisters again. Dr decided to biopsy a chunk of her toe (ouch) so maybe we can find out something new. Feel sorry for her continued difficulties.

I went to the dentist and they fitted the partial. Now they will put the fake teeth in it and I will get my teeth on February 4th! Sure missed xmas by a lot.

Lobys pizza was good. Might go for the fish tomorrow.

January 8 2025

Had to get moving early to get to the retiree lunch. Decent crowd today. Hogan, Messner, Dick, and the usual Lowell and Ian. We split a beef stew and it was good.

Hustled back for Mary’s cardiologist appt but it has changed till May 28? No sure when or why that happened. Shame on me.

We did some of the puzzle and I won a few bucks on a pick 3 at Gulfstream. Came close at Tampa on a pick 4 but missed the last race by ½ a length. Tomorrow is foot doctor. Lots of questions on what the heck is going on.

January 7 2025

Was up early for no particular reason. We got another couple of inches of snow. Not much going on till a doctor visit for Mary at 1pm.

We stopped at Walmart and picked up a few items then headed home. Another wasted day. Worked on the puzzle a bit.

Tomorrow is the retiree lunch and another doctor appt for Mary with the Cardio guy. Stock market beat down today. Was watching CNBC and Trump came on spouting all his bullshit. Did not realize he was saving us from the previous administration and every other horrible climate saving scams. I almost puked. Just waiting to spit on this devil's grave. Can't wait.

Carolyn is 53 today. Yikes!

January 6 2025

Had trouble getting to sleep but got a good sleep in. There was 3-4" snow last night. The plows were out and they did the roads, driveways and walks. After coffee we took down the tree and got the floors vacuumed. Took us til around 1 pm.

Got a new puzzle out and worked on that in the afternoon. Jacob said he was bored and felt like a shut in. Classes start next Monday, so he should enjoy his quiet time. Carolyn planned to go up today. Tomorrow is her 52nd bday, OMG, in 15 yrs she will be SS age.

Mary's foot continued to improve. I will bandage it up yet again tonight.

News said Trudeau will resign as Canada PM. Smart move. He won't have to deal with the TTW.

January 5 2025

We slept in till 9 and got ready for church. After church we put away about half the xmas stuff. Probably finish tomorrow. Watched the Bills scrubs lose to NE. NE coach got fired after the game. Winning the game blew their chance for a number 1 seed in the draft. Wonder if that had anything to do with it. I think the Bills would have won, but they put in the 3d string QB for the 4th quarter. He was pathetic.

Mary's foot continued to improve but it is still far from healed. Still an open wound. I will bandage it up yet again tonight. Txt'd with Bob Muller. He is rooting for the Bills. Let me know that a couple weeks back. We haven't been on the best of terms lately, as he is a fan of Trump and his nonsense. Seems really upset with the rainbow people.

Got moving early today. Took a look at Mary's foot in the morning and was tending to the bandage and happened to knock over the betadyne antiseptic. Oops. Big dark brown puddle on the area rug. No big deal. It was getting pretty worn and dirty by our chairs and I was thinking of trying to clean it or replace it. A little got on the couch so I wiped that off and no harm there.

Got the foot bandaged again. Looks like there was some drying overnight. Still open cause the betadyne and erythromycin burned when I put it on. Still don't like the looks of it. Made breakfast; eggs, toast, and Loby potato. Yum. Did the pill boxes for the week. We picked out a new 9 by 12 area rug and ordered it. Should be here Jan 15.

We worked on a puzzle watched the horses, and had leftovers. Sent in Love of Angel dinner ticket and paid the dentist bill. Owed dentist 750 for the partial plate I still don't have. Appt next week for the first fitting.

January 3 2025

Got moving early today. Took Mary for annual mammogram in Green. We were out the house at 845am. That's the earliest in a long time. The roads were Ok even though there was an inch and a half on the ground.

Called the foot doctor. They had nothing till next week. They called in another prescription for her. I will dress the blister best I can till then and try to keep her off her feet.

Changed out the light fixtures in the bathroom. Mary helped hold things up while I connected wires. Had bought them at HD awhile back but with the colds and all never felt up to it. Went smooth. Maybe an hour for the 2 fixtures. Looks great.

Around 2pm we headed to Loby's. Really like the fish there since they changed to have cod. I get it blackened and Mary likes the baked or broiled. Erin got us Loby potatoes instead of the fries. They are awesome.

Started another puzzle. Should go quickly; only 300pc.

January 2 2025

Slow morning. We headed to Alliance to meet with sister Sue and drop off all her gifts. She gave us a couple and bought us Texas Roadhouse dinner. Stinking cold! It was 30 but feels like 14 with the wind. Stinking cold! So far we have not yet cooked this year and now have 3 days worth of leftovers.

Got home and opened the gifts. Mostly history books which I will enjoy. I think Ed had my name and got me them. Sue enjoyed my chicken decorative items.

Thinking back on last year's several shortfalls. Never got Dick to adopt me, never got Dick nor Bill to buy a vacation condo. Not only that, Steve wouldn't take me to Disney land. Lots of fails.

Sofi was down 8% today. Ouch! Some no name company I never heard of downgraded them? Motley Fool kept their buy rating. Hope others do too or it will be painful. Raised a lot of cash. The market guys think there is a max of another 5% gains to be had and a large risk of a correction anytime.

Mary's foot is looking good. Letting things dry our right now in the evenings. The doctor wanted us to put the antibiotic cream on it but putting the cream on never lets the skin heal up. I do put it on in the morning if we are going out. Not really sure what to do. Going with drying it out at the moment.

January 1 2025

Happy New Year! I made it till 10:00 last night for the second year in a row!

Well, was at 1150 with chess January 2022, 1050 on January 2023, 1160 on January 2024, and all the way up to 1200 this year. Been playing less 3 min games and more 10min games. Apparently, my alleged brain works slower these days.

Feeling much better today. It has been 16 days since I picked up that nasty cold and I am still coughing. Mary is over hers.

We picked up pork and kraut at Acme, but then we went to Kent. Jacob needed some new jeans for his new Chipotle job. He did his laundry, got jeans, and ate at the downtown Japanese place. It was very good. There was about 3x the food we could eat so we froze it when we got home.

too cold.
